

THOMAS GRANT

PERSONAL SUMMARY

As an ambitious and self-motivated junior developer, I'm eager to apply my skills and knowledge to create engaging user experiences. Currently studying software development with CodeClan, I'm proficient in JavaScript, React, CSS, and more. My passion for diversity and collaboration drives me to create inclusive designs that meet the needs of all users. My Autism Spectrum Disorder diagnosis has become one of my strengths, enabling me to focus intently on my work and pursue my passions with enthusiasm. In addition to my development skills, I've honed my communication abilities as a freelance voice actor, working closely with clients to deliver their vision. I'm excited to join a team where I can continue to learn and grow while contributing to impactful projects.
